Step 2: Select the Search column OR leave it blank and select the cells on the sheet to search. This is handy when comparing small chunks of data. Excel 2007 has 1,048,576 rows and 16,384 columns to search through so do try to refine your searches.

Step 1: Select the cells that contain the values for your search and then add them to the list.

Step 3: Select a colour to highlight all or a different colour for each item searched by double clicking on the listed item.

Step 4: To highlight all the listed items searched for in a selected range.

Dumps listed items onto a new worksheet. Handy for summarising data

Use Excel's Filter by color in conjunction with the multi-find add-in to drill into lists
